

Dawn Gordon

Mrs. Dawn Gordon has worked in education and mental health settings for over 20 years. She currently serves as the Principal at Pittsburgh King PreK-8. Prior to her school administration promotion, she was a school social worker and served as a field instructor and adjunct professor at the University of Pittsburgh School of Social Work. Mrs. Gordon graduated from the University of Pittsburgh with a Bachelor of Science degree in Child Development and Child Care and a Master of Social Work degree with a direct service concentration in children and families. Additionally, Mrs. Gordon earned a Master of Education degree and principal certification from Duquesne University. Mrs. Gordon is also a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc., the largest historically black service organization in the world. Mrs. Gordon is currently enrolled in the Educational Leadership doctoral program at Duquesne University with an emphasis on Social Justice. Her research interests include student mental health programs in community schools after the global pandemic. Mrs. Gordon is a dedicated life-long learner with a vision to remove barriers in academic settings and cultivate a learning environment that is culturally responsive and nurturing for all students.